

SCARLET WOMEN WILL BE BARRED

Inmates of Washington Division Not to be Tolerated Here.

THREATEN INVASION.

Passage of Kenyon Bill Will Close All Houses in The District of Columbia—Officials Interviewed.

Alexandria will not tolerate an invasion of women driven out of Washington's "red-light district," by the passage of the Kenyon bill. This was the emphatic statement today of every official of Alexandria who is charged with the preservation of peace from Mayor Fisher down, and brings to an end the widely circulated story that a number of women would locate here. The story was put in circulation yesterday after some eight or ten women had visited the city and talked with real estate agents relative to renting of houses. Immediately any attempt is made to come here they will be arrested and severely dealt with in the unanimous verdict of all in authority.

But there is still another problem which will have to be solved in the future and that is the question as to what will be done to keep the lowest element of Washington from visiting this city provided that the "segregated district" on Lee street is permitted to be conducted as it now is. Conditions in that section of the city have not caused any serious trouble but it is apparent with the closing of the Washington resorts a much more serious condition of affairs is threatened. Travel on the cars between Washington and Alexandria, especially at night, will be augmented and will probably be made very disagreeable.

The Kenyon bill, which wiped out the "segregated district," in Washington, was passed by the House yesterday. It is now in the hands of President Wilson and will be signed by him within the next few days.

The provisions are so drastic that it will amount practically to an automatic closing of every questionable resort in the Capital.

To remain open for a day or an hour after the bill becomes a law would jeopardize not only the liberties of the property owners and the inmates, but make the property itself liable to confiscation. The belongings of the resorts, by the term of the new law, would be held and sold to pay the cost of court proceedings, and the houses would be closed with a prohibition against the opening of them for any purpose within a year.

The debate in the House yesterday lasted for an hour, and was spectacular in spots. When the measure passed the Senate there was no discussion. Many women were in the House galleries, listening intently to the arguments of the lawmakers. When the vote was taken and the result announced several of the women applauded.

With the provisions of the bill now practically on the statute books, all discussion of the reform last night turned to the women who will be in fact thrown into the streets. A recent census demonstrated that there are upward of 50 known resorts, most of which are within a stone's throw of the District municipal building and the others not far from the Capitol, these having more than 350 inmates.

The management of the National Florence Crittenton Home Mission, last night issued a public offer of the services of the institution in the work of establishing every woman and girl who desires assistance in honorable employment.

In a statement signed by Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, president of the mission, whose home is in Alexandria, it was said that "sometimes our good angels come in a garb which we least expect, and therefore, we may not be quick to recognize them, but let us hope that there are many of these girls who will realize in this legislation an opportunity rather than a misfortune."

"While we will be very glad, indeed," the statement says, "to receive any of these in the Florence Crittenton Home who are willing to accept our hospitality, we realize that many would be loath to give up their life of independence and freedom to which they have been accustomed, and it would be very difficult for them to adjust themselves to institutional life, therefore we do not confine our offers of help to opening the doors of the Florence Crittenton Home, but we are prepared to offer them assistance in any form that will meet their wishes and requirements."

"The National Florence Crittenton Mission is in touch with educational and commercial enterprises all over the United States. In addition to the circles and centers of interest in every city of any size in the United States, it will not only be able to assist any girl who desires to return to her own home, but help her until she is capable of earning her own living with assistance, but will gladly assist any girl to prepare for a business or professional course. The only thing that we will require in return is that the girl is willing to put into this preparation the same amount of effort that is required of other women who hope to make a success in the higher walk of life."

NEWS OF THE DAY

An explosion occurred yesterday on the Canard liner Mauretania, which is in dock at Liverpool undergoing repairs. Four men were killed and many injured. A bottle of compressed gas, which was being used in a heating process in the engine room, blew up from some unknown reason, causing tremendous havoc among the enginefitters. Several of the injured are in a serious condition.

Most notable among the American women at the court ball in the Quicinal palace in Rome last night were Mrs. Ira Morris, wearing a diamond necklace said to be valued at $500,000, purchased from an Indian rajah, and Mrs. John Hays Hammond, in an old Venetian brocade, and the jewels she wore at King George's coronation. Her gems included a diamond and emerald necklace, bracelets, stomacher, and earrings, formerly belonging to Catherine, of Russia.

The St. Louis police are bending every effort to learn the final disposition of the dismembered body of a white girl, which a negro is said to have carried about in a suitcase for several days, three months ago. The murder mystery was partially brought to light in a story told to Chief of Detectives Allender by Chas. Anderson, a negro under indictment for murder of another negro. Anderson swore to the detective chief that his father-in-law, Reace McAllister, came to the laundry where Anderson was employed as night watchman, and offered $50 for permission to burn the body of the girl in the laundry furnace. Anderson said he saw the severed body, but sent his father-in-law away with it. The police are looking up the whereabouts of several young girls who were reported missing about the time of the suitcase episode.

Former Senator Lyman R. Casey, one of the first senators from North Dakota, died suddenly in Washington Sunday evening. He was 66 years old.

There will be introduced in the State legislature at Albany today, a bill prepared by the Anti-Saloon League of New York requiring the skull and cross bones poison label, with a brief scientifically accurate statement, to be pasted on all beer and whisky bottles.

MASONIC NOTICE.

There will be a called meeting of Andrew Jackson Lodge, No. 120, A. F. and A. M., on Wednesday night, January 28, 1914, at 7:30 o'clock for work. By order of the Worshipful Master.

HOUSE ACTS ON TAX ON DEPOSITS

Delegates Reject Amendments by Vote of Forty-six to Thirty.

20 CTS. AGREED UPON.

Long-Discussed Matter Reached Final Vote in the House of Delegates This Afternoon.

Richmond, Jan. 27.—By a vote of 56 to 30, the House of Delegates yesterday rejected amendments to the Weaver money tax bill, which would have inserted the rate of 25 cents on $100 and the provision for collecting at the source, as advocated by Governor-Elect Henry C. Stuart. After disposing of a number of other amendments, the bill, carrying a 20-cent rate, by a vote of 65 to 18, was ordered to its third reading and engrossment. It will come up today on its final passage.

As the bill now stands it provides for the segregation of taxes on money, whether in bank or elsewhere, to the State alone, forbidding taxation of this form of property by the counties, cities or school districts, and for the assessment and collection through individual returns to the commissioners of the revenue as heretofore. The bill specifically applies to any money on deposit with any bank or other corporation, firm or person, or in the possession or under the control of the owner, whether such money be actually in or out of the State. No citizen of Virginia, therefore, can either legally or morally gain any exemption by the mere subterfuge of withdrawing his money from bank over the taxation period, nor will he be able to escape a grand jury investigation into his tax returns by depositing his money in bank in some other State.

The act as now pending on its final passage carries the emergency clause taking effect at once, and requires a four-fifths vote for its passage. The votes on various amendments yesterday showed a clear majority against the feature of collecting at the source—that is, of having the banks assessed for the total amount on deposit, the banks to charge this assessment at 20 cents per $100 to each individual depositor. No vote, however, indicated a majority of four-fifths.

Should enough members stand against the bill to cause its defeat because of the omission of a more certain method of collecting the tax, the fight for relief is not entirely lost, as the Echols bill passed by the Senate fixing the rate at 10 cents, is on the calendar. Technically, the Senate bill comes up first, but will probably be passed by to allow a final vote on the House bill now pending.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

One Woman Killed and Several Persons Injured.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 27.—One woman was instantly killed and five other persons were hurt when a touring car got beyond control of the driver rounding a sharp curve near Towson, early this morning, and crashed into an oak tree.

The dead: Miss Grace Swank, 28 years old. The injured: Mrs. S. D. DeMilt, cut on face and body.

"Tip" Santmeyer, driver, broken right arm and broken jaw, also cut on face and chest. Clayton Davis, cuts and bruises on face and body with possible internal injuries. Jeanette Mohr and Madge Sheehan, both members of the chorus, are responsible for the big hit of the show. The way in which they danced the tango brought the house down, and it was not until they were about to drop from exhaustion that they were permitted to leave the footlights. The chorus is called upon to do more work than is usual, but this proves one of the assets of the production, for it is exceptionally well drilled. There are no less than fifteen musical numbers during the two acts and the costumes are daring and startling in their effects.

WEAVER BILL PASSED.

(Special Dispatch to Gazette.) Richmond, Va., Jan. 27.—The Weaver bank deposit bill was passed by the House of Delegates this afternoon by a vote of 80 to 17. The bill carries a tax of 20 cents on the one hundred dollars. Heretofore the rate has been thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars.

AT WASHINGTON THEATRES.

Wonderful Acting of Miss Keane at the Belasco.

Doris Keane in "Romance." "Romance" produced at the Belasco Theatre under direction of Charles Dillingham, has charmed already the audiences of New York and Chicago. It is easy to understand why. It is throughout the very spirit, letter, and meaning of its title. It writes in lines that are art and situations that are drama the story of a great love, a love so great that, in order to show all its sweetness and power, there is room for nothing else at all in the play.

It is impossible to describe the narrative adequately without using all the words of Mr. Sheldon. But it concerns the love of a young rector in New York 40 years ago for the "golden nightingale" of that age, Margarita Cavallini. And because she returns his love the action is such as to prove that the best in drama is what is really the best of life, love that is high and noble and strong.

That is all there is of it—a play of love and music and song, and at the end self-sacrifice. But this is a play within a play, for Mr. Sheldon has written his story to show that the young rector, become in later years a bishop, uses his experience to advise his grandson to marry an actress. In other words, the old bishop, remembering the perfume of his romance, brings to the young man fresh flowers for his betrothed.

The acting of Miss Doris Keane in the stella role was wonderful. To her characterization of "the Cavallini," she gives all that she has of art and personality, and she does it with such success that she, perhaps, realizes that in it she has reached greater heights than ever before. At all events, never before has she so held and delighted her audiences as she does now. Her beauty, her voice, her coquetry, and her power in emotion conspire together to prove her a great actress.

Supporting her is Leslie Faber, as the rector of St. Gilex. Mr. Faber did excellent work in "Milestones," but in "Romance," he surpasses everything in his career. It would be easy enough to permit the rector to seem an unimportant personage, a lightning rod upon which the light of Miss Keane might play. But he makes the young lover a strong, commanding figure.

Others who contributed in great degree to upholding the dramatic standards set by Miss Keane, were H. Nye Hart, Kenneth Davenport, Miss Gilda Varesi, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Forbes.

"The Rosey Posey Girls."

"The Rosey Posey Girls" in a two-act musical burlesque are the attraction at the Gayety. M. J. Kelly and Irvin Gear comprise a comedy team that is hard to beat. They kept the house in an uproar from the time the curtain went up until its final fall.

The show is one of the best on the burlesque wheel and is filled to the brim with fun and catchy music. The entire company is above the average seen in burlesque, Ruby Gray, Billie Davis, Irene Gold and Mabel Orell form a quartette of feminine artists that win instant approval, both from a personal standpoint and from the dash they put in their parts. Jeanette Mohr and Madge Sheehan, both members of the chorus, are responsible for the big hit of the show. The way in which they danced the tango brought the house down, and it was not until they were about to drop from exhaustion that they were permitted to leave the footlights. The chorus is called upon to do more work than is usual, but this proves one of the assets of the production, for it is exceptionally well drilled. There are no less than fifteen musical numbers during the two acts and the costumes are daring and startling in their effects.

ALLEGED PLOT TO KILL HUERTA

Heads of Conspiracy Are Placed in Prison—Others Flee Country.

DICTATOR'S FLIGHT.

His Power Gradually Crumbling—Resignation of General Rabago Serious Loss to Federal Army.

Mexico City, Jan. 27.—Many members of the Mexico City police department were dismissed today on orders of General Huerta, following the discovery of an alleged plot to assassinate Huerta next Sunday, and the arrest of the accused leaders.

Col. Vito Robles, chief of police under President Madero, and Colonel Zavalar, alleged heads of the conspiracy, were arrested today and immediately sent under guard to the grim prison of San Juan de Ulloa, at Vera Cruz, a fortress from which condemned conspirators rarely come forth alive.

Orders were out today for the arrest of Gen. Eugenio Rascon, vice-presidential candidate of the Catholic party at the last election, and Gen. Fernando Gonzales, formerly commander of the Rio Grande division of the federal army, who were said to be in the plot with Robles. They are believed to be in hiding within the capital, and their arrest is hourly expected.

Huerta's officers said that the conspirators, like Felix Diaz and Huerta, planned to execute their coup Sunday. Instead of splitting the army, however, as was done when Madero was overthrown, the plotters planned to turn over 4,000 armed policemen to Bascon and Gonzales. The policemen were to attack the national palace and capture Huerta.

The plot, it is said, was revealed by a secret service man, who is a brother-in-law of one of the policemen in the conspiracy.

The Mexico City police force is believed to be strongly anti-Huerta, and the discovery of the alleged plot, it is believed, will result in a reorganization of the department.

Huerta today was chagrined by another military loss, the resignation of General Antonio Rabago, one of his foremost generals. Rabago, pleading age and ill health, retired, despite the urgent protests of Huerta. Coming on the heels of the death of General Joaquin Maas, Rabago's resignation is as serious a loss to the federal army.

War office reports today said the Zapatistas simultaneously attacked eight towns in the States of Morales and Guerrero, and were repulsed in every instance.

FIREMAN KILLED.

Train Breaks in Two, and Cars Smash Engine on Other Track.

Roadside, Va., Jan. 27.—Because of the breaking in two of extra freight No. 1331, westbound, on the Norfolk and Western at Irvington, between Thaxton and Montvale, yesterday morning at 3:40 o'clock, Fireman W. F. Lemon, of Engine No. 673, pulling an eastbound freight, is dead and Fireman L. B. Bell, of Engine No. 10088 of the eastbound train, is slightly injured.

The wreck was peculiar. Train No. 1331 was running west, composed of empty coal cars. When it arrived at a point just this side of Irvington, a coupler broke. This was about midway of the train, and the cars in the center of the train buckled and bulged over on the eastbound track. At that time an eastbound freight was passing, and the cars from the other train were thrown in front of the double-headed Fireman Lemon was on the engine in lead, and, judging from the condition of the body, he was leaning out of the cab window, since his head and the upper portion of his body were horribly mangled. The cab on both engines was smashed to pieces. Fireman L. B. Bell, who was on the second engine of the eastbound train, was slightly injured, as was the brakeman who was riding on the engine.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Cardinal Midgets will line up against the fast A. H. S., quint, Friday night, for the 125 pounds title of Alexandria, which is claimed by both teams.

Mrs. Hattie F. Hammond, colored, who conducted a store at 624 south Washington street, died suddenly this morning.

In the Corporation Court today a decree was entered in the suit of Charis Tilghman Fleming Balch against the Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Baltimore referring same to Douglas Stuart, master commissioner.

The pupils of Miss Spetzler at St. Mary's Academy, will give their first public recital tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the assembly hall of the school. A cordial invitation is extended to the patrons and friends of the school to be present.

Samaritan Rebecca Lodge I. O. O. F., will hold a meeting tonight when the recently elected officers will be installed.

INCORPORATION OF COUNTY.

The Public Service Association of Alexandria county is pushing the question of incorporating either the entire county or certain thickly settled portions thereof, believing that to be the right step to secure needed improvements in the way of water and consequent fire protection. To that end a mass meeting will be held at the county courthouse on Thursday, January 29th, at 8 p. m., when the matter will be thoroughly discussed by citizens of the various sections of the county, after which a vote will be taken to ascertain the views of those present.

PARK AT BULL RUN URGED.

Grand Army Men And Confederates Behind National Project.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Advocates behind the movement to have the Federal Government create a national park out of a portion of the ground on which the first battle of Bull Run was fought are planning to renew the fight with increased vigor. The project is being backed by members of the Grand Army of the Republic and veterans of the Confederacy, together with persons living in the vicinity of the historic spot. Representative Carlin, who represents the Congressional district of Virginia in which the site is located has prepared a bill which he will introduce by this week, which would provide for the establishment of the proposed park.

Veterans of both armies, it is said, are anxious that a fitting memorial such as a national reservation, should be created to mark the day, July 21, 1861. There are still upon the battle field many historic buildings. Fire shortly after 12:30 o'clock this afternoon broke out in the office of a store occupied by P. K. Chaconas, 9th and Louisiana avenue, Washington. Before the firemen had subdued the blaze nearly $20,000 damage had been done by fire, water and smoke. Adjoining stores on both the Louisiana avenue and 9th street side suffered also. A terrific explosion, which was heard by people in the market and in the vicinity of 9th and the Avenue, first attracted attention, and the blaze began quickly to eat its way about the building. It is said that a gas heater kept in the office on the second floor of the Chaconas store, had become overheated in some manner while the bookkeeper was out to lunch and caused an explosion.

COMMITTEE AND PRESIDENT MEET

Executive Bares White House Secrets at Conference Last Night.

Mexico, Japan, Canal Tolls and Treaties Discussed at Last Night's White House Conference.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—In a three-hour conference at the White House last night between President Wilson and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the present status of American foreign affairs was made known. The subjects on which the President threw light were the Mexican situation, the Japanese controversy over the California alien land laws, the Panama Canal tolls dispute with Great Britain, the negotiations with Colombia for a settlement of the Panama-Colombia dispute, the Haitian revolution and the general arbitration treaties.

The President informed the members of the Senate Committee on the status of these subjects in the same manner he would were he to send or deliver a special message to Congress.

In the words of the President, given after the conference, it was the first time since soon after Mr. Wilson became President that he has had an opportunity to talk to the whole committee which must work with the President on almost all foreign matters. He availed himself of the opportunity to tell the Senators all he knew of the subjects discussed, Mexico, Japan, the Panama Canal tolls dispute, and the arbitration treaties occupied the most time.

The President informed the committee he believed it the duty of the nation to renew the arbitration treaties. He told them this was particularly so with reference to the treaties with Great Britain and Japan. He said the United States had taken a position in the foremost ranks in favor of arbitrating disputes, and it would be a step backward and stultifying if the United States did not maintain that record.

President Wilson characterized as "interesting fiction" published reports that orders had been sent to Rear Admiral Fletcher to land marines at Vera Cruz and keep open the road to Mexico City in case the Huerta administration collapsed. From the White House point of view the situation in Mexico is slowly changing and the Huerta government is undergoing a "natural decay."

FATAL LAUGH IN STORY.

As Son Tells It, Father Roars and Falls Dead.

Kenyon, O., Jan. 27.—While laughing over a joke at the dinner table Sunday, A. B. Weitley, aged 50, fell to the floor dead.

A son, who had attended Sunday school, related a story he had read about a Sunday school teacher who, after impressing the features of the day's lesson upon his class, said: "Would any of you like to ask me any questions?" A boy rose to his feet and asked eagerly, "Please, teacher, have you any cigarette pictures about you?"

Weitley joined in the outburst of merriment and suddenly slipped from his chair. A doctor was who summoned said the man had died from heart failure induced by hearty laughter.

DISORDERLY NEGROES.

Woman Alleged Man Was After Her With a Knife.

The neighborhood of Duke and Alfred streets was disturbed last night by a negro named Martha Majors, who cried "murder," as she attempted to gain entrance into a house, she alleging a negro man named Walter Stewart was after her with a knife. Officers Roberts and Reed appeared and arrested the man and woman. They were brought before the Police Court this morning, when, according to the woman's statement, the attack upon her was unprovoked. Several witnesses testified to hearing the disorder. Officer Reed stated that Stewart did not work and passed most of his time in and about saloons.

Stewart denied that he chased the woman and also that he had a knife. He said he was talking to another woman at the time Martha Majors appeared and that he had no evil intentions toward her.

Justice Caton fined Stewart $5 and dismissed the woman.

VETO BEFORE ALDERMEN

Regular Meeting of Council Tonight
—Upper Board Will Consider
Mayor's Message

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Council will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The most important matter which will come before the aldermen will be a communication from Mayor Fisher returning without his approval two resolutions recently passed by both boards appropriating $250 to pay the legal expenses of Urban S. Lambert, member of the Common Council, from the First Ward, whose seat was contested and the case carried before the Court of Appeals; also a resolution appropriating $100 for the construction of a sewer at the confines of the city on upper King street.

The resolution providing for paying Mr. Lambert's expenses was passed by a majority of the lower board. It also passed the Aldermen with but one dissenting vote.

At the last meeting a majority of the Common Council declared the resolutions operative notwithstanding the Mayor's objections. When the communication reached the Board of Aldermen that body ordered that it lie over until tonight.

STOLE HIS MEGAPHONE.

Rev. John Cavanaugh Has Suffered Other Losses Recently.

Speaking to a large number of people on Public Square, of Wilkes Barre Pa., a few days ago, on the text "Thieves" Rev. John Cavanaugh formerly pastor of the Free Method ist Church of this city, suddenly awakened to the fact that some one in his audience had stolen the megaphone which he uses in making himself heard by his hearers. So far the evangelist has been unable to find any trace of his property.

Rev. Cavanaugh has many times been made the victim of thieves. In Pennsylvania, the familiar satchel which he always carried with him having been stolen many times until the evangelist hit upon the idea of having religious expressions painted on the sides of the bag. Since that time thieves have kept their distance from the satchel.

NEGRO RESISTS OFFICER.

Stalwart Black Defies Arrest When Guilty of Improper Conduct in the Street.

Last Saturday night Officer Kern while on Pitt street, between Prince and Duke, attempted to arrest a big negro named John Mitchell for improper conduct. The negro defied the officer and when the latter put his hands upon him threw him down and called upon some of his companions to aid him in his attack on the representative of the law. The latter managed to regain his feet when Mitchell ran. Officer Kern then discharged his pistol at the fugitive without effect.

Mitchell was caught this morning, brought before the Police Court and fined $10.

AFTER ROLLERSKATERS.

Two White Boys Arraigned Before the Police Court This Morning.

For several weeks people residing on Fairfax street, between Wolfe and Wilkes, have complained of the action of many young people of both sexes who use the new granolithic sidewalks as skating rinks. The owners of property abutting on that square allege that their sidewalks are being damaged by the sport, while the incessant roar of the skates is annoying. They have no objection to the revellers using the vitrified brick roadway, but the youngsters prefer the sidewalks, and the aggrieved persons have been compelled to appeal to the police.

Yesterday afternoon Officer Kern picked up two defiant youths while they were using the sidewalks and catching on vehicles which were passing on the square. They were taken to the station house and later released and told to appear before the Police Court this morning when they faced the bar. Justice Caton told them they were liable to a fine of $5, but he would continue the case indefinitely with the assurance that should they violate the law in future they would be re-arrested and made to pay $5 each.

All trimmed and Untrimmed Hats to go at $1.00. Values up to $7.00, to make room for spring styles. Hayes, Millinery, 921 King street.

RETROCESSION SPECTRE

Another Effort to Bring Alexandria Into the District of Columbia

Retrocession fever has abated considerably during the past year, or after it was learned that Congress contemplates forcing the District to bear all the expenses of its government in future.

The shade of this movement, however, occasionally appears on the screen, and while the Mexican situation and the relations with Japan are attracting general attention, Congress is to be again saddled with retrocession.

Congressman Smith, of Michigan, has introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a commission to devise a plan whereby Virginia will cede back to the District of Columbia about thirty square miles of the Virginia side of the Potomac.

The Smith bill provides that a commission of six, to be appointed by the President and the Governor of Virginia, shall report what legislation is requisite "to secure the restoration to the District of Columbia of so much of Alexandria county, Va., as may be essential to the proper development and maintenance of the capital of the United States."

SOUGHT JUSTICE OF PEACE.

Another Young Couple From Washington Anxious for Magistrate to Unite Them.

In some states of the union a marriage contract can be entered into before a justice of the peace, and many persons in Washington suppose a civil contract is all that is necessary for a couple desiring to wed in Virginia. Hence, after anxious couples, generally early in the night, seek magistrates in Alexandria and are disappointed when told that such representatives of the state have no authority to perform marriage ceremonies.

Last night a young couple of the capital city proceeded to the extreme southeastern section of the city in search of a justice of the peace for the purpose of having their fortunes united for life. They found the object of their search, but were greatly disappointed when informed that they must first secure a marriage license from the clerk of the court and be married by a minister of the gospel authorized to celebrate the rites of matrimony. The prospective bride upon being informed of this fact turned to the would-be groom and said: "Well, we'd better give this up as a bad job for tonight."

The justice, however, came to the rescue and told the parties there was no need for them to return home as they left, in single blessedness, as the accommodating clerk of the court kept blank licenses at his residence for the benefit of those who desire them after his office is closed.

The couple listened attentively to the directions and vended their way towards the home of the clerk. They secured a license and soon found a minister who was as accommodating as the clerk of the court, and they embarked upon the sea of matrimony.

POLICE COURT.

(Justice H. B. Caton, Presiding.)

Two white boys, charged with skating on sidewalks, had their case continued.

Walter Stewart, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Martha Majors, colored, charged with a similar offense, was dismissed.

John Mitchell, colored, charged with improper conduct on the street and resisting an officer, was fined $10.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Dallas Peyton, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from his residence, 208 Duke street. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Edgar Carpenter.

The funeral of John H. Ward was held at two o'clock this afternoon, services being conducted by the Rev. C. R. Strausburg, pastor of the M. P. Church. The interment took place at Bethel Cemetery, and a squad of soldiers of the Alexandria Light Infantry, of which Ward was a member, fired a volley over his grave.

SOCIAL SESSION HELD.

Belle Haven Council, No. 61, held a very pleasant meeting last night which was greatly enjoyed by those present. One candidate was initiated and after that the members had a social session. There was a banjo section by Professor R. H. Hancock, and songs and recitations by W. A. Harding, L. J. Allen, H. A. Morton and others. It was decided to repeat the social session at the next meeting.

Women's Evening and Dancing Dresses $16.95

Not only is this sale very timely, because of the proximity of dancing, but because of the many occasions requiring a simple but effective dress of this kind.

Of the values there is not much need of speaking—they are a surprise even to us. They come from the maker with whom we have arranged our several previous sales in dresses of this kind.

There can be no doubt as to the attractiveness and fashion correctness of the dresses—they are undeniably pretty, and of the silks that will again be worn with much charm this spring. Taffeta and charmeuse from the body of the gowns with bodices of dainty shadow laces artfully combined with silk and further beautified by coney fur. Double flounces of plain or Dresden silk are fur-trimmed to correspond with the bodice. The shades are pink, blue, lavender, black, white and the new tango, which blend with the lower part of the skirt and thereby complete a most attractive garment. Also dresses of crepe meteor, with gold brocade chiffon tunic, edged with black or white lace and coney fur. Adapted alike for the afternoon tea or the evening dance. They regularly sell at $25.00. SCARLET WOMEN MUST LEAVE WASHINGTON.

On the street, on the street,
To and fro with weary feet,
Aching heart and aching head,
Homeless, lacking daily bread,
Lost to friends and joy and name,
Sold to sorrow, sin and shame,
Wet with rain and chilled by storm,
Ruined, wretched, lone, forlorn,
Weak and with weary feet,
Still I wander on the street.

The passage by Congress of the Kenyon bill having for its purpose the elimination of houses of ill repute from the District of Columbia, will be a bombshell in the gilded resorts of the Capital City, and where to go and how to exist will be a problem which from three to four hundred women will be made to face.

Since the dawn of history resorts which have brought odium upon cities and neighborhoods have existed. Rahab of Jericho looms up in the dim past, followed by others both in sacred and profane history.
There were Magdalenes in the early days of the Christian church and such retreats have ever flourished.

When driven from place to place
they have become as the Wandering Jew, with the cry of "Move on!" ever in their ears.

There can be no doubt that many who in thoughtless moments have started on the downward track have become disgusted, and in their dream see themselves once more around family firesides surrounded by parents sisters and brothers, only to stare at their state when awakened.

Such often drown their shame in stimulants until age forces them to stand aside and make place for new faces. It is then that the lines quoted above come to them in all their terrible meaning.

Willie Collins' New Magdalene was read by thousands two decades ago. The novelist gives an interesting description of the reformation of a woman who had made a false step in life.

While all this seems plausible to the readers of the book, the fact remains that the reclamation of this class is one of the most difficult encountered by good people whose lives are spent in attempting to turn such unfortunates from the broad road of destruction into the strait and narrow path. While there are a few exceptions, the great majority who have made shipwreck of their lives refuse to enter homes, preferring to continue in the rush to the madhouse which draws them in after a short summer of butterfly existence.

In today's Gazette is published the offer of Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, of this city, to help any of the women who will be driven from the Washington resorts. In this statement Mrs. Barrett practically admits that few of the women now in Washington will take the opportunity of entering one of the institutions of which she is the head, and she therefore offers to help them in any other way. The Florence Crittenton Mission, which is one of the greatest and most successful organizations for the helping of girls in America and which has millions of dollars invested in its 78 homes scattered in every section of the country, has never made much headway with the women who, for any considerable length of time, have been inmates of questionable resorts. It is with young girls who have made their first misstep, that the mission has done its greatest work.

HIGH FINANCE WRECKED RAILWAY.

It wasn't transportation but "high finance" that wrecked the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, according to the conclusions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which finds the cause of the insolvency to be overcapitalization, the acquisition of lines that were suckers rather than fenders, and the financing of lines in Southern Texas. If the management of the company had confined itself to the railroad business instead of spreading its sails upon the tumultuous sea of finance, it would now be in control of its property. The Commission naturally raps the bankers who negotiated $3,000,000 of 5 per cent. bonds at 78, the railroad company paying over 6.4 per cent. for its money at a time "when every appearance indicated the insolvency of the issuing company." The action was a good deal like that of the banker who accepts deposits from the public when he knows he is about to make an assignment.

Victim of Heart Disease.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 27.—Donald
P. Nolan, 42 years old, a civil engineer, employed by the Menhaden Fish Corporation, at Kilmarnock, Va., was stricken with heart disease in the Hotel Lexington yesterday morning and died while in an ambulance on his way to Mercy Hospital.

Nolan came to this city several days ago and registered at the hotel.
He had been undergoing treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Virginian Gets $25,000 Verdict
Against American Woman
In Ceylon.

London, Jan. 27.—Charles K. Mosser, of Virginia, the American consul at Colombo, Ceylon, has been awarded $25,000 damages, according to a Calcutta dispatch to the Daily Telegraph, in a suit brought by him against Mrs. Virginia Graham, an American visitor to Ceylon, for defamation of character.

Mrs. Graham is said to be in America at present.

The annual report of the Hamburg-American Line, shows that the company earned $15,000,000 in 1913, an increase of $2,000,000 over 1912.
A 10 per cent dividend was declared.

Fire swept through the great exposition building at Manila yesterday wrecking a large part of the structure. The loss is estimated at $250,- 000. Several firemen were injured.

MUSTEROLE ROUTS Pain For Millions

Our grandmothers had a sovereign remedy for pains and aches—the old-fashioned mustard plaster.

It did the work, but goodness how it did sting and blister!
Now you can get this marvelous relief, without the plaster and without the blister!

MUSTEROLE is the Twenty-first Century form—a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard that you rub on—and the pain is gone.

And it won't blister the tenderest skin.

It is so easy to apply. You don't have to bother with a cloth. Just rub it in briskly—so that it penetrates the pores and you get delicious relief.

There is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsilitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back of Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (prevents pneumonia). Millions of jars of Musterole are sold annually. It is a staple in the large hospitals.

Doctors and nurses use it and recommend it to patients.

Ask your doctor.

In 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, O., and we will mail you a jar postpaid. (67)

Mrs. M. J. Smith, St. Paul, Ind., says: "Musterole is worth its weight in gold, and I recommend it almost every day. It is the best for asthma, Bronchitis, and Rheumatism of anything I have ever used."

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

BIG POSITION FOR SLEMP.

Congressman Likely to Manage Coal Company in Which he is Interested.

Bristol, Va., Jan. 27.—That Congressman C. Bascom Slemph, of the Ninth Virginia district, is sincere in his wish to retire from congress at the end of his present term is vouched for by a prominent coal operator who was here this week, and who brought the news that should Slemph retire from congress a salary of $25,000 a year would await him to manage the business of a big concern in which he is interested.

Slemph tried to get out of harness in 1912, but his friends controlled the convention and renominated him. He has served notice already that he is not a candidate, and has asked his friends to unite in nominating a Progressive to succeed him.

But in spite of his disposition not to again run, sentiment is strong for him in all the counties, and he may thus be again deprived of the big salary that awaits him in private life. Slemph owns extensive coal properties in both Eastern Kentucky and Southwest Virginia.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

Premature Explosion of Shell Destroys Sight of Merchant at Tip Top, Va.

Roanoke, Va., Jan. 27.—William White, twenty years old, formerly of Tip Top, Va., manager of the E. Z. Tailors establishment, of this city will lose both his eyes on account of the premature explosion of a shell in a small target rifle with which White and a companion had been firing at targets. The accident occurred Saturday morning at his home in Tip Top, where White was spending a short vacation. He was brought to a local hospital here last night and the pronouncement made by the hospital physicians that the sight of both of the young merchant's eyes had been entirely destroyed by particles from the cartridge.

WANT ADVICE OF GOV-ELECT.

No Action on Extra Session Until Mr Stuart is Inaugurated.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 27.—Chairman Aubrey C. Weaver, of the House Committee on Finance, announced that no action will be taken in regard to an extra session of the General Assembly to consider tax matters until after Governor-elect Henry C. Stuart takes office. The committee has under consideration the Baker-Land resolution, which proposes the apportionment of a special committee on taxation to sit in the interim, to which shall be referred all resolutions on the subject of taxation, with the understanding that when this committee is ready to report, probably about November 1, of this year, a special session of the General Assembly will be called to consider this matter alone.

"It is probable," says Mr. Weaver, "that the incoming Governor will touch on this matter, either in his inaugural address or in some message to the General Assembly early in February. At it will be one of the most important matters to come up during his administration, the committee has decided that it will be proper to defer action on the pending resolution until informed of his views."

Personally, Chairman Weaver is convinced that an extra session for consideration of the subject of taxation alone is the proper way to reach a wise determination of the tax problems now before the State. Such a session would have not only the digested advice of its own committee, in the shape of bills ready for consideration when the body convenes, but being called for that purpose alone, it will not be interrupted by the immense variety of small matters that take up the time of the regular sessions and distract the attention of members from the issues of State importance.

Married in Speeding Auto.
Bristol, Va., Jan. 27.—While speeding 50 miles an hour in an automobile Roy Cloyd, son of a Washington county farmer, and Miss Fannie Mae Collins, 18 years old, were married Saturday.

Cloyd boarded the automobile in Jonesboro, accompanied by Magistrate A. S. Murray. Miss Collins, who had stolen away from her home, joined the party at Jonesboro. While the machine was rounding the curves of the Bristol-to-Memphis highway, Magistrate Murray pronounced Cloyd and Miss Collins man and wife.

COMING INAUGURATION.

Planning Pageant on Induction of New Governor.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 27.—The program for the inauguration of Governor-elect Henry C. Stuart has been completed by the committee of the General Assembly having the matter in charge. From the great military parade through the streets of the city to the firing of a nineteen-gun salute by the Richmond Howitzers, the induction of Mr. Stuart into office on Monday, February 2, will be a public spectacle the like of which has not been seen in Richmond for years. It is the intention now to have the day declared a city holiday, in order that all may be free to witness the ceremonies.

According to the final plans of the committee, the events on the inauguration day will take place in this order:

Military Section.—The command participating in the parade will assemble in Capitol Square at 10:45 o'clock. About the same hour carriages containing Governor Mann riding alone, Lieut-Governor Ellyson and Senator Echols, and the members of the inaugural committee, will drive out of the grounds of the Executive mansion and take position at the head of the column. At the extreme head of the line will be a squad of mounted police, who will be immediately followed by the chief marshal and his staff. Col. Robert F. Leedy, of the Second Infantry regiment of the Virginia Volunteers, has been appointed chief marshal. For his staff he will have officers of the three regiments and the various departments of the Virginia Volunteers. They have not been selected yet.

The carriages, the one containing Governor Mann coming first, then that in which Lieut-Gov. Ellyson and Senator Echols ride, and then those containing the members of the committee, will follow close behind the chief marshal and his staff. The military organizations, placed according to the army regulations, will follow the carriages.

Court Of Appeals.

The following cases were argued before the Supreme Court yesterday: No. 52. City of Richmond vs. Thompson's heirs. Argued by H. R. Pollard for appellant, and by Alfred E. Cohen for appellees, and submitted.

No. 46. Tysor et als vs. Adams, clerk. Argued by E. R. F. Wells for appellant, and R. R. Hicks, for appellee and submitted.

No. 47. Southern Railway Co., vs. Jacobs, partly argued and continued until tomorrow.

Next cases to be called:

No. 48. Payne vs. Brown et als. (Dismissed agreed.)

No. 49. Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland vs. Gill, et als.

No. 50. Western Union Telegraph Company vs. Walker & Bros.

No. 53. Norfolk-Hampton Roads Company, etc., vs. Wells, et als.

Staunton Income Tax Law Upheld.
Staunton, Va., Jan. 27.—In the Corporation Court yesterday, Judge R. S. Ker sustained the constitutionality of the city ordinance levying an income tax. Capt. J. N. McFarland, and J. Martin Perry had brought suits to recover from the city taxes levied and collected under the income tax ordinance. It is understood the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court of Appeals.

With a terrible roar an avalanche, sweeping down the mountainside at Storrs, Utah, yesterday snuffed out three lives and seriously injured three other persons. Four houses were ground to splinters. Every tree in the path of the icy mass was snapped off at the roots.

May Help You If Lungs Are Affected

Proper diet, fresh air and temperate habits are beneficial to persons suffering from Lung Trouble, but in a great many instances reports show that the addition of a medicine for this affection has materially helped in bringing about recovery. For more than fifteen years Eckman's Alternative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Trouble, has accomplished good results. Read what it did in this case: "Gentlemen: In December, 1908, March, 1909, and September, 1909, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs which continued several weeks, each time to my bed. My doctor advised me to go West. In November I started for Denver, Col. After my arrival I met Michael Brody, who, upon learning of my condition, urged me to take Eckman's Alternative. I kept on taking the medicine and improved fast. In March, 1910, I returned home. I am entirely well, have a good appetite and sleep well. When I left Denver my weight was 120 pounds. I now weigh 165, my normal weight. I thank God and your Alternative for my health." (Abbreviated; more on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Straborn Colds and in rebuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

LANKFORD APOLOGIZES.

Norfolk Doctor Withdraws Harsh Criticism of General Assembly.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 27.—In an open letter sent to Delegate Woodward, of Norfolk, and read in the House as soon as it convened yesterday, Dr. Livius Lanford, of Norfolk, apologizes to the Legislature:

The letter follows:

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 25, 1914.
To the Senate and House of Delegates of the State of Virginia, Richmond, Va.:

Gentlemen,—In deference to your honorable body, as well as in justice to myself, I beg you will consider what the undersigned has to say relative to some remarks made recently before the Anti-Saloon League, of Virginia which gave you offense.

If your members could have followed me through a medical practice of over thirty years and have seen the infinite human misery and degradation consequent upon the use of alcohol you would be able to understand how an emotional man, wrapped up in his subject, speaking without notes and without a written address, could in his fervor make remarks that soberer thought have shown to be unjust to your body.

Having done this I am now doing the only thing that an honest man can do when he has done you an injustice, namely, seeking to make amends, and in as near the same public manner as possible.

Yours very respectfully,
LIVIOUS LANKFORD,

On motion of Delegate Hobson, who voted against the enabling act, the House unanimously accepted Dr. Lanford's apology.

On motion of Senator Montague the letter was ordered spread on the minutes of the Senate.

GIRL, 11, NOT ALLOWED TO WED

Would Marry Miher Who Promised Home For Sick Father.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 27.—The county authorities today prevented the marriage of a mine worker 45 years old, and an 11-year-old girl, who had consented to marry the man in order to give her injured father a home and the necessities of life.

John Sodusky, the father, has been bed-ridden for months from an injury received in the mines and was without means to support himself and daughter. The little girl consented to marry the mine worker when he agreed to care for her helpless father and a marriage license was procured. The man and girl came to Wilkes-Barre to be married, but before they could find a clergyman the county authorities heard of the matter and took the two before Judge Fuller, of the county court.

The court ordered the child turned over to the care of the United Charities Society and held the man and the girl's mother under bail for a further hearing.

THIS NEW MEDICINE SAVES YOU MONEY

We are druggists right here in your town and make a living out of the drug business, but it is because people have to have drugs and not because we like to see people suffer—we don't. Our duty is to render the best service we can, and when some one is ailing, we are interested in seeing them take the best medicine there is for their particular trouble. We don't recommend "cure-alls," as we don't believe there are such things. We don't want you to spend more than you have to. Some of you get small wages, and when you are sick, none at all, and you should get the most you can for your money.

We recently came a cross a new remedy for increasing strength and building up people who are run-down and emaciated. We know that a slight trouble sometimes grows into a serious one, and to stop it in the beginning, will save you money in the end. This new compound is called Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is the best remedy when you are run-down, tired out, nervous—no matter what the cause. It doesn't merely stimulate you and make you feel good for a few hours, but takes hold of the weakness and builds you up to a healthy, normal condition. It is a real nerve-food tonic and builder of good blood, strong muscle, good digestion. It contains Hypophosphites, which tone the nerves, and pure olive oil, which nourishes the nerves, the blood and the entire system. Pleasant to take, contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. We promise that if you are not perfectly satisfied with it, we'll give back your money as soon as you tell us. Sold only at the 7,000 Rexall stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00. Wm. P. Taylor, druggist, 616 King St., Alexandria, Va.
